All equipment and staffing are subject to availability at time of booking and are only hired in conjunction with a catering order. Breakages and damage to the equipment will be charged for at market cost and invoiced after the event. Staff are not allowed off the premises for the duration of the event, and are hired for the specific job functions only.

Staff are charged from arrival time to departure time, including the duration of all setup and pack-up, to be determined at the discretion of the catering team. If staff are needed for longer than the pre-arranged time, the coordinating team member should be informed by the client immediately in order to guarantee that staff are not booked for later events. Additional staffing fees will then be invoiced after the event.
